Application Recommendations

We recommend submitting your resume online in response to specific positions. The Application Instructions (link) is found at the bottom of each position listed on the careers pages.

Be prepared to undergo a thorough background investigation examining your life's history, your character, trustworthiness, reliability and soundness of judgment.

We also examine your freedom from conflicting allegiances, potential to be coerced, and willingness and ability to abide by regulations governing the use, handling and the protection of sensitive information.

The CIA uses the polygraph to check the veracity of this information.

The hiring process also includes a thorough mental and physical medical examination in relation to performing essential job functions.

The clearance process

The Agency uses a polygraph to check the veracity of information that bears upon the areas listed above.

CIA's polygraph examiners are highly trained security professionals, among the world's best in their field.

They work closely and carefully with applicants to ensure that the information upon which clearance decisions are based is as accurate as it can be and is guarded with the strictest confidence.
